BRUCE LEVENSON

Bruce and Ed Peskowitz co-founded United Communications Group (UCG), a portfolio of professional business information companies, in 1977. UCG, which is now one of the largest privately held business information companies in the world, provides specialized information to more than two million clients in numerous business sectors, including healthcare, technology, energy, telecommunications and financial services. Involved in many philanthropic endeavors, Bruce has served as president of the "I Have a Dream Foundation," and serves on the board of Hoop Dreams. Levenson is a graduate of Washington University in St. Louis and the American University School of Law. From 1994-99, he and Peskowitz owned a minority interest in the Washington Capitals, Wizards, Capital Centre and Verizon Center. Bruce has homes in Atlanta and Potomac, Md.

MICHAEL GEARON

Michael Gearon, a native and lifelong resident of Atlanta, started a telecommunications enterprise after college and sold the business several years later to American Tower, one of the largest providers of communications towers in the world. He is currently involved with several businesses internationally. A graduate of Georgia State University, Gearon is an avid lifelong Hawks fan. He resides in Atlanta with his wife and three children.

STEVE BELKIN

Belkin is the founder and chairman of Trans National Group (TNG), a privately held direct response marketing and investment company headquartered in Boston. Founded in 1974, TNG now has more than 250 employees and has sales of more than $200 million annually. Belkin, who created the concept of the affinity credit card, has started more than 20 companies under the TNG umbrella, eight of which have been sold. Belkin has served on the board of trustees for Cornell University, the Boston Medical Center, the Sports Museum of New England and is on the board of directors for the Hoffman Institute. He has also been on the Harvard College Visiting Committee, as well as the Committee on University Resources. A native of Grand Rapids, Mich., he is a graduate of Cornell University and holds a master's of business administration from Harvard University. He and his wife, Joan, have two daughters, Julie and Amy, and reside in Boston.

ED PESKOWITZ

Peskowitz co-founded United Communications Group (UCG), a portfolio of business information and software solutions companies, with longtime friend and business partner Bruce Levenson in 1977. Today, UCG, with headquarters in Gaithersburg, Maryland, is one of the largest providers of business solutions to vertical markets in the country.

RUTHERFORD SEYDEL

Mr. Seydel is a partner in the firm of Davis, Pickren & Seydel in Atlanta, and concentrates his practice in the area of sustainability, business transactions, energy and eco-system markets, among other interests in real estate, corporate law, private and public foundation law. He is a graduate of the University of Georgia and the Mercer School of Law. He is a Co-Founder and Chairman of the Upper Chattahoochee RiverKeeper, Inc., Chairman of the Conservation Fund, Chairman of the Board of the School of Ecology at the University of Georgia, Board member of the Southern Environmental Law Center, Board member of the Georgia Conservation Voters and Vasser Wooley Foundation. He is an Advisory Board member of the National Parks and Conservation Association and Land Trust Alliance. Mr. Seydel is an officer of United Nations Foundation, Turner Foundation, and Turner Endangered Species Foundation and involved with numerous other organizations. He has been a season ticket-holder of the Hawks for more than 25 years and of the Thrashers since the team's Inaugural Season in 1999. He and his wife, Laura, have three children, John R., Laura Elizabeth and Vasser.

TODD FOREMAN

Foreman is a partner in United Communications Group (UCG), the business information company founded by Bruce Levenson and Ed Peskowitz. Foreman, who joined the company in 1992, oversees several of UCG's businesses and focuses on UCG's acquisition strategy along with Levenson. He also oversees the UCG Charitable Foundation which provides money to organizations that serve the community. A Certified Public Accountant, Foreman spent two years in public accounting and five years in real estate consulting prior to joining UCG. He is a native of Baltimore, Md., and received a bachelor's of business administration degree from Emory University and a master's of business administration degree from George Washington University. He and his wife, Tracy, reside in Potomac, Md., and have three children, Samuel, Joshua and Katelyn.

FELIX RICCIO

Riccio, who serves as a representative of the Boston ownership, is senior vice president of corporate development for Trans National Group (TNG), a direct response marketing and investment company founded by Steve Belkin. In his position, he oversees the corporate development activities of several operating companies under the TNG umbrella. Prior to joining TNG, Riccio practiced corporate law with Goodwin, Procter & Hoar, LLP in Boston, where he focused on venture capital financings, public offerings and mergers and acquisitions, and served as an investment banker with Morgan Stanley & Co. in New York. A native of Amsterdam, NY, Riccio holds an undergraduate degree from Princeton University and a law degree from the University of Virginia. He and his wife, Moira, have four children, Thomas, Andrew, Catherine and Nicholas, and reside in Wenham, Mass.

MICHAEL GEARON, SR.

Gearon has spent almost 30 years in various capacities with the Atlanta Hawks, including general manager (1977-79), president (1977-1986) and chairman of the board (1986-2004). Gearon, who engineered the trades that brought Tom McMillen and the late Terry Furlow to Atlanta, helped the Hawks qualify for the playoffs in both seasons as general manager. A successful entrepreneur who retired from business at age 37, Gearon built one of the top real estate development companies in the country. Gearon & Company, which pioneered the concept of large-scale suburban office parks, was responsible for many of the business developments in Atlanta today, including the Coastal States Building and the Perimeter Center complex. A longtime associate and close friend of Ted Turner, Gearon is a former director of Turner Broadcasting.

BEAU TURNER

Turner is involved in endless charitable organizations related to environmental conservation and preservation around the world. He currently serves as Chairman of the Board of Trustees for the Turner Endangered Species Fund and is the Director of Natural Resources and Biodiversity for Turner Enterprises, Inc., the land-holding group for the Turner Family. Turner also serves as a Trustee for the Turner Foundation, a private family foundation that focuses on environmental and population-related causes. He also serves on the board of the Jane Smith Turner Foundation and of the Captain Planet Foundation. Extremely active in the non-profit community as well, he currently serves on the board of Wetlands America Trust and The Peregrine Fund while finding time to be a council member for the Jim Range Conservation Fund. He also works closely with groups like Ducks Unlimited and Tall Timbers Research Station and Land Conservancy. He founded the Beau Turner Youth Conservation Center near his home in Florida in 2008. Children come to the BTYCC to learn about conservation, to interact with nature, to acquire skills like hunting, fishing, archery and camping, and to study alternative energy sources like the solar panels that help to power the center.

HAWKS MANAGEMENT

BOB WILLIAMS - PRESIDENT, ATLANTA HAWKS & PHILIPS ARENA, EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT, ATLANTA SPIRIT, LLC

Bob Williams is president of the NBA's Atlanta Hawks, president of Philips Arena and the venue's in-house concert and entertainment promotions company, and executive vice president of Atlanta Spirit LLC, the parent company for the Atlanta Hawks, the Atlanta Thrashers and Philips Arena. As Atlanta Hawks President, Williams has oversight of the franchise's business operations. In the latter role Williams shares oversight of the parent company's shared services with Don Waddell, president of the Thrashers and EVP, Atlanta Spirit LLC.

Williams was a member of the executive committee to oversee the design and construction of Philips Arena. Previously, he was a 22-year employee of The Omni Coliseum and was the building's president beginning in 1994 until it was imploded in 1997.

Williams holds board positions with the Georgia Alliance for Children, the Atlanta Convention & Visitors Bureau (ACVB), the Atlanta Sports Council, and Central Atlanta Progress, and is a member of the Rotary Club of Atlanta.

In addition, Williams recently was made Honorary First Sergeant of Fort Benning's Charlie and Delta Companies of the 30th AG Infantry. He was recognized for developing a program of hosting injured soldiers, soldiers preparing for assignment to fight in Iraq, and Airborne Rangers and their families at Hawks and Thrashers home games and various other Philips arena events.

Williams is a graduate of the University of Georgia.

HAWKS MANAGEMENT

RICK SUND - EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT AND GENERAL MANAGER

With over 35 years of NBA experience, longtime league executive Rick Sund enters his third season as the Hawks Executive Vice President and General Manager.

He is responsible for basketball operations, including coaching, player personnel, contract negotiations and salary cap management.

In his first full summer as the team's head of basketball operations, the Hawks succeeded in retaining the bulk of the team's nucleus from the 2008-09's 47-win club, including unrestricted free agents Mike Bibby and Zaza Pachulia, and restricted free agent Marvin Williams.

The Hawks landed additional firepower when the organization added the services of veteran guard Jamal Crawford from Golden State, and drafted Wake Forest's Jeff Teague (the 19th overall pick in the 2009 Draft).

Last year, Atlanta returned to postseason play for the third straight year (and second under Sund) and recorded the franchise's best record in 13 seasons when they finished with 53 victories and a third-place regular season ranking in the Eastern Conference. His ability to obtain Crawford via trade not only filled a void coming off the bench, but also provided the Hawks with a legitimate Sixth Man of the Year candidate. A starter for much of his pro career, Crawford was willing and able to do what was necessary (he tallied a league-high 18.0 ppg, the most by any reserve a year ago) for the team en route to winning his first NBA honor and reaching the playoffs for the first time in his career.

The man behind much of this summer's off-season activity, Sund was able to re-sign unrestricted free agent and four-time All-Star Joe Johnson, and acquire dynamic guard Jordan Crawford from Xavier in this year's Draft. In addition, he was responsible to hiring a new coach for the Hawks, naming longtime NBA assistant Larry Drew.

Formerly the General Manager of the Seattle Sonics from 2001-07, Sund and the Sonics were the inaugural champions of the Northwest Division in 2004-05, and the team reached the postseason twice during his tenure.

Prior to that, he served in several different capacities with the Dallas Mavericks from 1979-94, finishing up as Vice President of Basketball Operations. At the start of his tenure, he helped the expansion Mavericks develop their inaugural season roster as the Director of Player Personnel. Selected by team President Norm Sonju, Sund – at the age of 28 – became one of the youngest lead executives in the league.

One of the NBA's most-respected front office executives, Sund presided over a Mavericks team that won a franchise-record 55 games and took home the Midwest Division title in 1986-87. Dallas matched or improved their record in each of the franchise's first eight seasons, reaching the playoffs on six occasions and making it to the Western Conference Finals in 1988.

In 1994, he spent one season as a consultant for the Sonics during Wally Walker's first season as GM, managing the Sonics' college scouting program and assisting Walker with personnel decisions.

Sund joined the Pistons as Vice President of Player Personnel in the summer of 1995, later assuming the title of Executive VP and General Manager of Basketball Operations. The Pistons, winners of 100 games in his first two seasons, participated in the playoffs four times during his Detroit years, where he spent six seasons (1995-2001). He assisted in developing the Pistons in the areas of roster and player development, trades, contract negotiations, player drafts, free-agent acquisitions and other team operations.

Sund began his career in Milwaukee under the tutelage of Wayne Embry, spending five years with the Bucks after graduating with a master's degree in sports administration from Ohio University in 1974.

He was a two-sport athlete at Northwestern University, where in basketball (as a 6-4 guard) he earned CoSIDA Academic All-America (third team) honors in 1973, and was twice named academic All-Big Ten, while also seeing action as a tight end and wide receiver on the football team. He holds a bachelor's degree in political science from Northwestern.

Sund is a charter member of the advisory board for the University of Michigan's Division of Kinesiology Sport Management. He previously served on the board of directors for the Special Olympics for the state of Washington, and was an advisory board member of the University of Oregon's business school's Warsaw Sports Marketing and Management Division.

Born on June 4, 1951, Sund has completed three marathons and a mini-triathlon. Richard Walker Sund is a native of Elgin, IL, and is a member of the Illinois Basketball Hall of Fame. He and his wife Lea are the parents of two children, daughter Hali and son Patrick.

DAVID PENDERGRAFT - ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER/DIRECTOR OF PLAYER PERSONNEL

In his third season as Assistant General Manager/Director of Player Personnel is David Pendergraft. He spent the 2007-08 season as a consultant for the Milwaukee Bucks and the Park Lane basketball club in Dongguan, China.

Reunited once again with General Manager Rick Sund, Pendergraft was an eight-year member of the Sonics scouting staff, before becoming the team's Director of Player Personnel in his third season. He concluded his final three years as Seattle's Director of Basketball Operations, overseeing the scouting and assessment of potential Sonics players and assisted then-GM Sund with player personnel decisions.

He also served as a coach in 1999 and 2000 for the Canadian Olympic Basketball team that competed in Sydney, Australia. The team won a silver medal in the '99 Olympic Qualification tournament, and won their pool in the 2000 Olympic games. He also worked as the New Jersey Nets' Director of Player Personnel for three years beginning in the 1996-97 season. He spent the previous two years as a scout for the then-expansion Vancouver Grizzlies.

Before joining the Grizzlies, he was an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Texas Christian University. He spent nine years performing similar duties with the University of North Carolina at Charlotte from 1985 through 1991. From 1979 to 1985, Pendergraft was an assistant coach at East Carolina University.

Born November 14, 1955 in Cary, NC, Pendergraft played collegiately at Brevard (FL) Community College, before transferring to Catawba (NC) College for his final two years.

SCOTT WILKINSON - VICE PRESIDENT AND CHIEF LEGAL OFFICER, ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER

In his role as Assistant General Manager, Scott Wilkinson's basketball operations duties include, among other things, assisting in the negotiation and drafting of contracts for players, coaches and other staff; trade research; salary cap management; collective bargaining agreement issues; insurance/risk management; and scheduling of the club's preseason games.

Wilkinson also maintains his responsibility as a member of the Atlanta Spirit Executive Committee and as Chief Legal Officer, with oversight of all legal matters for Atlanta Spirit LLC, Hawks, Atlanta Thrashers, HTPA Holding Company, Atlanta Hawks Foundation and Atlanta Thrashers Foundation.

Wilkinson was previously Assistant General Counsel for Turner Sports, Inc., providing legal support to all Turner Sports properties, including the Hawks, Thrashers, Atlanta Braves, World Championship Wrestling and The Goodwill Games.

Before his tenure at Turner, Wilkinson practiced law with Moore & Van Allen in Durham, NC, and was also a founding member and sports agent for Buoniconti Sports Management Group, LLC. Prior to that, he was an Associate at Ginsburg, Feldman and Bress in Washington D.C., and a Judge Advocate in the United States Marine Corps. Wilkinson retired in 2006 from the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve as a Lieutenant Colonel following 20 years of service.

Wilkinson attended Duke University on a football scholarship and earned his A.B. degree, cum laude, in 1985. He earned his J.D. from Duke in 1988.

Wilkinson and his wife, Beth, have two children and reside in Atlanta. He serves as a board member for Atlanta Hawks Foundation and Atlanta Thrashers Foundation.

DOMINIQUE WILKINS - VICE PRESIDENT OF BASKETBALL

The most celebrated player to ever put on a Hawks uniform, Hall-of-Famer Dominique Wilkins enters his seventh season as the Hawks' Vice President of Basketball. Previously the team's Special Assistant to the Executive Vice President and Player Development Assistant, Wilkins works in various management functions within the organization's basketball and business areas, and as the team's analyst for the Hawks broadcast networks.

Wilkins is responsible for advising the senior management team on basketball-related issues and working as a strong voice in the community. The 6-8 forward, who concluded his NBA career with 26,668 points, is the ninth all-time leading scorer in league history and his 24.8 career scoring average is 11th on the all-time charts. Wilkins' 23,292 points with the Hawks are the franchise's best, and he ranks second overall in team history in steals (1,245), fourth in rebounds (6,119) and sixth in blocked shots (592) and assists (2,322). One of league's true marquee players, his outstanding contributions on the court were recognized by the organization in January 2001 when he became the third player in club history to have his uniform number (#21) retired, joining Hawks legends Bob Pettit and Lou Hudson.

ENSHRINED 2006

Familiar to area sports fans from his collegiate days at the University of Georgia, Wilkins entered the 1982 NBA Draft after his junior season with the Bulldogs. He ended his Georgia career as the school's all-time scoring leader with averages of 21.6 points to go along with his 7.5 rebounds. A three-time All-SEC performer who also took home the Most Valuable Player award from the 1981 Southeastern Conference tournament, he was selected with the third overall pick in the first round by the Utah Jazz.

Hawks officials valued his talents enough to send two players (John Drew and Freeman Williams) and cash to the Utah Jazz on September 2, 1982 for his draft rights, and the end result was beneficial for both parties. Wilkins was able to continue his career in front of familiar faces, and Atlanta had its first superstar since Pete Maravich.

Instrumental in the team's success in the mid-to-late '80s, Wilkins electrified Atlanta sports fans as the club recorded 50-win seasons four straight times from 1985-86 to 1988-89. He averaged 29.1 points over that period, and in the 1988 All-Star Game he ripped the nets for 29 points in 30 minutes of action.

A playoff participant in eight of his 12 seasons with the Hawks, his finest hour came during the 1988 postseason when Atlanta narrowly missed reaching the Eastern Conference Finals, as the Boston Celtics eked out a two-point victory in Game 7 of the conference semifinals. Wilkins averaged 31.2 points in 12 playoff contests that year, and having participated in ten years of playoff competition, scored 25.4 points per game.

After missing only 18 of a possible 738 regular season games his first nine years, Wilkins' durability took a serious blow when he suffered a season-ending tear of Achilles tendon midway through the 1991-92 season. While it was unsure if he would return to his old high-flying self, Wilkins responded the next season by scoring 29.9 points per game to finish second only to Michael Jordan for the league scoring title.

He was a member of the NBA All-Rookie Team in 1983 and was named to seven All-NBA teams, nine consecutive All-Star squads and was a two-time winner of the NBA Slam Dunk Championship (1985 and 1990).

On November 6, 1992 against the New York Knicks, a patented baseline jumper led to Wilkins becoming the 17th person in league history to join the 20,000-point club, and later that season (February 2, 1993 against Seattle) he supplanted Pettit as the franchise's all-time leading scorer. His stellar career in Atlanta came to an end on February 24, 1994 when the Hawks traded him to the Los Angeles Clippers for Danny Manning. At the conclusion of the year, Wilkins decided to test the free agent market and signed with the Boston Celtics.

Discouraged with his performance in 1994-95, which resulted in career lows in scoring and field goal percentage, Wilkins joined Panathinaikos Athens of the Greek League the following season (1995-96). He was named MVP of the European Final Four after averaging 20.9 points and 7.0 rebounds and leading the team to the European Men's Championship.

Seeking a return to the States, Wilkins signed a free agent contract with San Antonio and provided more than the Spurs possibly imagined, leading the David Robinson-less Spurs in scoring with an 18.2 average and grabbing 6.4 rebounds.

He returned overseas for the 1997-98 campaign, signing with Italy's Teambest before rejoining the NBA for his final professional season (1998-99), as Wilkins saw action in 27 games for the Orlando Magic.

Extremely active with local and national charity endeavors, Wilkins has done work with the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation, Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, Special Olympics, Muscular Dystrophy Association and American Lung Association. In July 2007, Wilkins launched "Nique and Newt's Full-Court Press on Diabetes" with former Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, Newt Gingrich. In March 2010, Wilkins was honored by the Georgia State Legislature as they presented a State Resolution naming him the Diabetes Ambassador for the state of Georgia.

Wilkins, 50, was born on January 12, 1960 in Paris, France. He and his wife Robin have two boys and a girl together, and he is also the proud parent of four other daughters. He joined basketball's immortals with his entry into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame on September 8, 2006, was inducted into the Georgia Sports Hall of Fame on April 3, 2004, and into the Atlanta Sports Hall of Fame's inaugural class on June 10, 2005.

MIKE McNEIVE - DIRECTOR OF BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

A 17-year NBA staff veteran, Mike McNeive begins his eighth season with the Hawks and fifth year as Director of Basketball Operations. His responsibilities include oversight of the Hawks' pro advance scouting area, as well as assisting Dave Pendergraft with college and minor league scouting.

McNeive served as Director of Pro Personnel from 2004-06, after originally joining the franchise as an assistant coach during the 2003-04 campaign. He worked the previous five seasons in Milwaukee, where he served as a scout/assistant.

During his stint in Milwaukee, the Bucks reached the playoffs four times, punctuated by a Central Division championship and a trip to the Eastern Conference finals in 2001.

Prior to that, McNeive was with the Seattle Sonics for four seasons as a video coordinator/advance scout. Seattle recorded a 239-89 mark during that time, won three Pacific Division titles and advanced to the NBA Finals in 1996 after winning a franchise-record 64 games.

McNeive got his start in the NBA with the Orlando Magic, where he interned in the video scouting department in 1993-94, as the club reached the playoffs for the first time in franchise history.

A Freeport, Illinois native, McNeive received his undergraduate degree in Physical Education in 1992 from Monmouth College (IL), where he was a four-year letterman in both basketball and baseball for the Fighting Scots. In 1993, he received his Masters Degree in Sports Management and Administration from Georgia Southern University.

Mike and his wife Maggie have four children, Ryan, Ally, Danny and Molly.

DUANE FERRELL - PLAYER RELATIONS AND PROGRAMS MANAGER

Former Hawks forward Duane Ferrell is back with the organization as he begins his third season as the team's Player Relations and Programs Manager. Ferrell previously served in a player development role for the Washington Wizards from 2001-04.

Undrafted after a stellar collegiate career at Georgia Tech, Ferrell played 11 years in the NBA, including time with the Hawks (353 games from 1988-94), Indiana Pacers (1994-97) and Golden State Warriors (1997-99).

His best offensive season came in the 1991-92 campaign, when he put in 12.7 ppg and 3.2 rpg in 66 games for Atlanta. Overall, he tallied 6.4 ppg and 1.9 rpg (.480 FG%, .750 FT%) in 583 career contests.

A Yellow Jacket from 1985-88, Ferrell was ACC Rookie of the Year and finished his career under coach Bobby Cremins as the school's third all-time leading scorer (1,818), and currently ranks ninth. He concluded as Georgia Tech's all-time leader in games played and was involved in more victories than any other Yellow Jacket.

He attended high school at Calvert Hall (Baltimore, MD), where he was a McDonald's All-American and was part of the 1982 National Championship team, which was ranked number one nationally the entire season.

A native of Baltimore, Duane Edward Ferrell has called the Atlanta area home since 1984. He and his wife Tina have four children, and reside in Conyers.

LARRY DREW - HEAD COACH

Marking his first season as a head coach in the NBA, Atlanta's Larry Drew has certainly paid his dues, and he's taking full advantage of the opportunity.

He has experience, having played with winners like Magic Johnson, James Worthy and Byron Scott. He has coached under individuals like Scott, Alvin Gentry and Doug Collins, and after 27 combined seasons as a player and coach, the work invested in those positions have set the stage for Drew to finally get the job he has desired for some time, and after 18 years on the bench as an assistant, that time is now.

Schooled in the fundamentals of the game as a youngster, Drew seeks to teach that knowledge to a Hawks backcourt that brings a nice blend of experience in the likes of veterans Mike Bibby, Jamal Crawford and Joe Johnson, and youth in Jeff Teague and Jordan Crawford.

While he won't forget about their teammates, he will instill a motion offense to utilize the skills of many multi-talented players on his roster, taking full advantage of one of the NBA's most efficient offenses in the league, and defensively, Drew wants his players to be more aggressive and accountable for their roles, which he believes will make them a much improved unit.

He knows the personalities of the players after six years of work, as well as their strengths and weaknesses on the court, and that should bode well as he seeks to lead the Hawks back to the playoffs for the fourth consecutive season.

Drew, who originally joined the Hawks coaching staff on August 24, 2004 as the lead assistant to then-coach Mike Woodson, was named as his replacement on June 12 of this year.

Before arriving in Atlanta, Drew was an assistant with the New Jersey Nets and Scott after spending the previous three seasons with the Washington Wizards in a similar capacity (2000-03) under Collins. Prior to that, he re-joined one of the teams he previously played for, the Detroit Pistons, as an assistant coach in 1999-2000. Drew returned to Detroit as an assistant under Alvin Gentry, for the first time since playing with the team as a NBA rookie with the Pistons in 1980-81. His coaching career began in 1992-93 when he broke into the ranks with another of his former teams, the Los Angeles Lakers, whom he played for from 1989-91.

An 11-year professional, Drew averaged 11.4 points and 5.2 assists in 714 career games for four NBA teams. After one season in Detroit, he played the next five years with the Kings, in Kansas City and Sacramento (1981-86), and his final four in Los Angeles (1986-91), for the Clippers and the Lakers. In addition, Drew spent one season internationally as a member of Scavolini of the Italian League in 1988-89.

He was a first round pick in the 1980 NBA Draft – 17th overall selection by the Pistons – and he reached postseason play four times in his pro career (31 games). Drew recorded his best season during the 1982-83 campaign, when he averaged 20.1 points, 8.1 assists and 1.7 steals for Kansas City.

Born April 2, 1958 in Kansas City, Kansas, Drew played four seasons at the University of Missouri, where he averaged 12.0 points and 2.8 rebounds and prepped at Wyandotte High in Kansas City. During the summer, Drew runs the Larry Drew Advanced Guard Academy in Los Angeles, and holds camps around the country.

Drew and his wife Sharon have three children, Larry, Landon and Lindsey. Larry II is a junior point guard at the University of North Carolina, while Landon and Lindsey play high school basketball in the Los Angeles school system for Fairfax High and Taft Middle schools respectively.

LESTER CONNER - ASSISTANT COACH

Joining the Hawks coaching staff this year is veteran NBA player and coach Lester Conner, who spent the last three seasons with the Indiana Pacers.

The stop in Indy was Conner's third different stint working with Pacers coach Jim O'Brien, whom he previously worked for with the Boston Celtics (2001-04) and Philadelphia 76ers (2004-05).

The upcoming season will be his 13th on the sidelines, as Conner began his pro coaching career in 1998 as an assistant to Rick Pitino in Boston. He also spent two seasons with the Milwaukee Bucks as an assistant coach, was a scout for the Miami Heat and an assistant coach for the Magic Johnson All-Stars.

A first-round pick of the Golden State Warriors in 1982 (14th overall), Conner spent four seasons with the Warriors before continuing his career with Houston, two stints with both New Jersey and Milwaukee, the LA Clippers, Indiana and the LA Lakers. He earned a championship as a member of the CBA's (Continental Basketball Association) Rapid City Thrillers in 1986-87.

In his 13-year playing career, he put up 6.3 ppg and 3.9 apg.

Conner grew up in Oakland, winning a California state championship his senior year at Fremont High School. After two years at Chabot Junior College in California, Conner played for the legendary Ralph Miller at Oregon State, helping lead the Beavers to a 52-6 record. He was named an AP All-American and Pac-10 Player of the Year as a senior.

Born September 17, 1959 in Memphis, Tennessee, Conner and his wife, Stacy, are parents of twin daughters, Simone and Alana.

BASKETBALL STAFF

BOB BENDER - ASSISTANT COACH

Entering his seventh season in Atlanta as an assistant coach is Bob Bender.

He came to the Hawks following two seasons with the Philadelphia 76ers. Bender joined the 76ers staff in 2002 after 13 years as a college head coach and served as the Sixers' assistant coach/player development for the 2002-03 season. He was promoted to assistant bench coach prior to 2003-04.

The 1996 Pac-10 Coach of the Year, Bender guided the University of Washington to a 116-142 record during his nine-year tenure (1994-2001), a mark that ranks fourth all-time among Washington coaches for career victories. Bender directed the Huskies to four consecutive trips to the NCAA Tournament from 1996 to 1999, a feat no other Washington head coach previously accomplished.

His 1998 squad, which featured former Sixers center Todd MacCulloch, recorded a 20-10 (.667) record, posting the school's finest winning percentage since 1985. Among their highlights that year was Washington's first 20-win season since 1987, their first NCAA tourney berth since 1986 and their first Sweet 16 appearance since 1984, falling in the final second to UConn.

Bender began his head coaching career with a four-year tenure at Illinois State (1990-93) where he was 60-57, earning two Missouri Valley Conference championships, one conference tournament title and an NCAA Tournament berth in 1990. He took home MVC Coach of the Year and Illinois Collegiate Coach of the Year honors in 1992, as the Redbirds posted an 18-11 record overall and a 14-4 mark in league play to share the regular season crown.

Prior to his stint at Illinois State, Bender was an assistant under Mike Krzyzewski at Duke (1983-89). The Blue Devils qualified for the NCAA Tournament in each of Bender's six seasons on the staff, including four trips to the Final Four. While at Duke, Bender coached former Blue Devil and current Nets GM Billy King and later worked with him at Illinois State.

The Duke graduate (history, 1980) has the distinction of being the only individual to play on two different teams in two different NCAA Championship games. He was a freshman on Bob Knight's undefeated 1976 Indiana team and played point guard at Duke from 1977-80, including an appearance in the 1978 title game against Kentucky. Bender was drafted by the San Diego Clippers in the sixth round before his senior year, but did not play.

Bender, born April 28, 1957 in Quantico, Virginia, and his wife, Alice have two children, Mary Elizabeth and Robert Michael III.

KENNY GATTISON - ASSISTANT COACH

Longtime NBA player and coach Kenny Gattison begins his first season with the Hawks, as an assistant to Larry Drew.

Most recently an assistant coach with the New Orleans Hornets from 2003-09, Gattison has also spent time on the coaching staff of the New Jersey Nets (1996-99) and Old Dominion University (2001-03), his alma mater. He was also selected to serve as an assistant during the 2009 Team USA Summer Camp workouts in Las Vegas, which the Hawks' Josh Smith participated in.

Selected in the third round of the 1986 NBA Draft (55th overall) by Phoenix, the blue-collar big man spent nine seasons with the Suns, Hornets and Grizzlies. He appeared in 494 regular season games, averaging 4.7 ppg and 7.9 rpg, hitting .520 from the field. He is the Hornets' franchise career leader in field goal percentage, while ranking fifth in blocks, offensive rebounds and games played.

The Wilmington, NC native enjoyed a decorated career at Old Dominion, where he was named Sun Belt Conference Player of the Year as a senior, finishing as the conference's all-time leading rebounder. The four-year letterman scored 1,623 points, good for 11th in Monarchs history. He was inducted into the ODU Sports Hall of Fame in 1991.

Gattison was born May 23, 1964 in Wilmington, NC, and he resides in Marietta, GA with his wife Harriet and their children, Natasha (21), Kyle (19), Bryce (16) and Grant (12).

BASKETBALL STAFF

TYRONE HILL - ASSISTANT COACH

A 14-year NBA veteran as a player, Tyrone Hill is in his third season as an assistant coach with Atlanta. Hill spent the prior two seasons as a volunteer coach with the Hawks.

The 6-9 forward was the first round pick (11th overall) in the 1990 draft of the Golden State Warriors, and averaged 9.4 points, 8.6 rebounds and 0.5 blocks (.502 FG%) in 801 regular season games (610 starts), and appeared in 74 postseason contests.

Hill played for five NBA teams during his career – Golden State, Cleveland, Milwaukee, Philadelphia and Miami – with his longest stint coming on two occasions with the Cavaliers (1993-94 to -97 and 2001-03). In 1996-97, he set the team's single-season franchise record after shooting a career-best .600 from the field (second in the NBA).

He spent his first three seasons with the Warriors, and was traded to the Cavaliers in 1993. He moved on to the Bucks in 1997, and later to Philadelphia, Cleveland (again) and Miami. He finished up his player career with the Heat in 2003-04.

He earned an All-Star game berth with Cleveland in 1995, and averaged 13.8 ppg and 10.9 rpg (.504 FG%) that season. With the Sixers in 2000-01, Hill helped lead Philly to the NBA Finals, where they fell to the Los Angeles Lakers.

Hill played four years collegiately at Xavier University, where he averaged 20.2 ppg and 12.6 rpg (.581 FG%) as a senior in 1990.

Hill was born March 19, 1968 in Cincinnati, Ohio.

NICK VAN EXEL - PLAYER DEVELOPMENT INSTRUCTOR

Entering his first season as the Hawks' Player Development Instructor is former NBA point guard Nick Van Exel. He comes to Atlanta from Texas Southern University, where he served as an assistant coach.

A second-round pick of the Los Angeles Lakers in 1993, Van Exel brings 13 seasons of NBA experience to the coaching staff, in addition to 76 playoff games and one All-Star game appearance (1998), having tallied career averages of 14.4 points and 6.6 assists (.405 FG%, .794 FT%).

During his Lakers career, "Nick the Quick" was known as a flashy player who had the ability to deliver points in bunches and hit a number of game-winning shots. In his five years in L.A., Van Exel averaged 14.9 points per game and 7.3 assist per game, finishing in the top ten in the league in that category on two occasions.

He joined Denver prior to the 1998-99 season and spent four years with the Nuggets, raising his scoring average in almost every season. Over that period, he posted 17.9 ppg and 8.3 apg, averaging 21.4 points through the first 27 games of the 2001-02 season before he was traded along with three others to the Dallas Mavericks.

Following two seasons in Dallas, Van Exel played for three different clubs over the next three years (Golden State, 2003-04; Portland, 2004-05; and San Antonio, 2005-06) before calling it a career.

Named to the NBA's All-Rookie second team in 1994, Van Exel played his final two collegiate seasons at the University of Cincinnati, where he led the Bearcats in both points (18.3 ppg) and assists (4.5 apg) as a senior. He led UC to a Final Four, and earned third-team All-American honors (AP, Basketball Times and Basketball Weekly) in addition to being selected as a finalist for the Wooden Award.

Nick Van Exel was born November 27, 1971 in Kenosha, WI.

WALLY BLASE - HEAD ATHLETIC TRAINER

Wally Blase begins his 11th season with the Hawks as the team's Head Athletic Trainer. He is responsible for the day-to-day health of the team, the evaluation and rehabilitation therapy of athletic injuries, and the supervision of the Hawks Sports Medicine staff.

Blase, 40, came to the Hawks organization in 2000 after four years as the Assistant Athletic Trainer with the Chicago Bulls, during which he was part of two NBA championships. With the Bulls, he was actively involved with assisting the head athletic trainer with all aspects of the team's medical needs, including the prevention, care, and rehabilitation of the athletes.

He is certified by the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA) and National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA), and is a certified Performance Enhancement Specialist and Corrective Exercise Specialist, through the National Academy of Sports Medicine (NASM).

Serving on the National Basketball Athletic Trainers Association (NBATA) for the last eight years, Blase is now in the second year of a two-year term as the Chairman of the organization. In that role, Blase represents the NBATA and its members as a liaison to the league office, as well as to NBA Physicians Association. Additional responsibilities include organizing the group's annual meeting, educational agenda and league business meeting, and oversight of the organization's business affairs and their charity and scholarship foundations. In 2005, the Southeast Athletic Trainers Association (SEATA) named Blase the Professional Athletic Trainer of the Year.

A native of Niles, Illinois, Blase has done several internships in the athletic training department of the NFL's Chicago Bears (the summers of 1994, '96 and '98). He also spent time as the head athletic trainer with the Cincinnati Rockers arena football team (1993). Additionally, Blase served as the Head Athletic Trainer for the NBA's Eastern Conference All-Star team in 2003, when the game was held at Philips Arena.

Blase spent three seasons as a student athletic trainer at Winona State University, where he obtained his bachelor's degree in sports medicine in 1992. In 1996, he earned his masters in sports psychology from Syracuse University while serving two years as a graduate assistant trainer.

He was born June 4, 1970 in Niles, Illinois.

PETE RADULOVIC - ASSISTANT COACH / PLAYER PERFORMANCE

In his 14th season with the Hawks, and beginning his seventh as Assistant Coach/Player Performance, is Pete Radulovic. Prior to his promotion, he spent seven seasons as the team's Strength & Conditioning Coach.

Radulovic came to the Hawks from the National Hockey League's Los Angeles Kings, where he served two seasons as their Strength and Conditioning Coach (1995-97). Prior to his stint with the Kings, he was a trainer with the United States Tennis Association, where he undertook training responsibilities at the various USTA tournament sites.

He is certified by the National Athletic Trainer's Association (NATA) and National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA).

Radulovic, who grew up in Honolulu, Hawaii, and attended Punahou High School, is a 1989 graduate of Loyola Marymount University in Los Angeles, where he played volleyball as an undergraduate.

He earned his teaching certification at LMU in 1990, before joining the USTA staff. Radulovic served as a graduate assistant trainer with Loyola's sports teams during his final year there. He has also done training work at various Great Western Forum events, including team tennis and roller hockey.

CHATTIN HILL - STRENGTH & CONDITIONING COACH

He came to Atlanta from Seattle, where he served as the Assistant Strength Coach for the Seattle Sonics for one year, and Head Strength Coach for the Seattle Storm (WNBA) for two seasons.

Hill also has collegiate experience, having worked in a similar capacity at the University of Washington, where he focused his efforts primarily on the men's and women's basketball teams, while also working with the school's track and field teams.

He is certified by the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA) as a Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist (CSCS). Additionally, he is a Corrective Exercise Specialist (CES) with the National Academy of Sports Medicine (NASM).

Hill is also on the Advisory Board for the Think Big Foundation, a Seattle-based organization that offers after school programs and residencies in athletics, arts, and academics to underserved youth.

The Seattle native graduated from Central Washington University with a bachelor's degree in exercise science. He enjoys music and outdoor pursuits in his spare time. Hill attended Newport High School in Bellevue, WA. He and his wife, Tikiya, live in Atlanta.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

NBA COMMUNITY PROGRAMS

NBA Cares is the league's global social responsibility program that builds on the NBA's long tradition of addressing important social issues. The NBA and its teams and players support a wide range of initiatives, partners, and programs that strive to positively impact children and families around the world. As part of the league's mission to demonstrate leadership in social responsibility, NBA Cares reaches communities using philanthropy, hands-on service, and creating legacy projects.

Since the program's October 2005 launch, the league, its players, and its teams have donated more than $140 million to charity, provided more than 1.1 million hours of hands-on service, and created more than 500 places where kids and families can live, learn, or play. NBA Cares reaches millions of children and adults through specialized programs – including NBA FIT and Basketball without Borders – that support education, youth and family development, and health and wellness.

The league and its teams and players also promote environmental awareness and sustainability through NBA Green. During annual high-profile league events, including NBA All-Star, The Finals, and international preseason games, NBA Cares initiates community outreach efforts to tap into the power of sport for positive social change.

Thanks to strong partnerships with internationally recognized community organizations – including KaBOOM!, Special Olympics, Boys & Girls Clubs of America, UNICEF, the Make-A-Wish Foundation, the Global Business Coalition on HIV/AIDS, Malaria and Tuberculosis, and the UN Foundation – NBA Cares makes a positive and lasting impact in communities around the world. ATLANTA HAWKS STUDENT ACHIEVER PROGRAM

Motivating youth to earn good grades, stay in school and work hard is what the Atlanta Hawks Student Achiever program is all about. Presented by Philips, the incentive-based initiative rewards students for achieving success in the following categories: 3.0 Club, Improving Grades, Perfect Attendance and Hard Work.

ATLANTA HAWKS POETRY SLAM

The Atlanta Hawks team-up with United Way of Metropolitan Atlanta to celebrate the Martin Luther King, Jr. Holiday with a special writing contest for Atlanta area high school students. The theme of the "Atlanta Hawks Poetry Slam" is based on United Way's brand "LIVE UNITED," and encourages students to write about how they can work together to create a better world. One Grand Prize Winner is selected to perform their verses at the Hawks' Martin Luther King, Jr. Holiday game.

YOUTH BASKETBALL

ATLANTA HAWKS AFFILIATE PROGRAM

The Atlanta Hawks Affiliate Program represents one community of dedicated individuals, teams, leagues, coaches, parents and players who have one goal – supporting the positive benefits attained through the participation in the sport of basketball. Organizations who participate in the Atlanta Hawks Affiliate Program receive a number of benefits ranging from basketball teaching and training content to group discounts and ongoing ticket opportunities. Visit www.hawks.com/youthbasketball to learn more and explore how your organization can partner with your Atlanta Hawks.

ATLANTA HAWKS COACHES CLINIC SERIES PRESENTED BY GATORADE

The Atlanta Hawks Coaches Clinic Series presented by Gatorade provides youth basketball coaches with the opportunity to learn from the pros. Each clinic features current or former Hawks coaches and players as they discuss the importance of youth coaching, philosophies, concepts, drills, skills, and strategies. In an effort to support the leagues, teams, schools, and/or youth associations, the Atlanta Hawks and Gatorade provide hands-on interaction and instruction to creating an optimum environment for the players to learn and have fun.

ATLANTA HAWKS BASKETBALL CLINICS

Atlanta Hawks Basketball Clinics help ensure that young fans are not just spectators, but active players in the game they love. Each clinic offers game specific training focused on fundamentals, footwork, body coordination, and fun. Players will interact with members of the highly experienced Atlanta Hawks Basketball Development Team and learn how to improve their game at any level and age. Clinic locations will vary and will be held at multiple community venues or the Hawks' practice court located in Philips Arena.

ATLANTA HAWKS KIA SUMMER HOOPS TOUR

The Atlanta Hawks Kia Summer Hoops Tour offers free, high-energy basketball clinics that focus on teaching the basic skills of the game to children ages 8-15. Conducted by the Atlanta Hawks Basketball Development Team, the Kia Summer Hoops Tour will be stopping at over 20 locations around metro Atlanta in June and July. Please stay current on all our stops around town by viewing the Kia Tour Tracker and watching video recaps of the Atlanta Hawks Basketball Development Team at each location.

NBA FIT CLINICS & CHALLENGES

NBA Fit Clinics & Challenges encourage physical activity and healthy living through products, events and programs for children and families. Local sites around the state of Georgia have teamed up with the NBA Fit initiative to promote health and wellness along with offering opportunities for fans, players, and families to get involved. Visit www.hawks.com/youthbasketball for more information.

COMMUNITY OUTREACH

SEASON OF GIVING

During the holiday season, the Hawks players, coaches and front office staff help spread the holiday cheer throughout the Atlanta area. Charitable efforts include toy drives, visits to local children's hospitals, preparing Thanksgiving meals for needy children and special holiday-themed Reading Timeouts.

TEAM GEORGIA

The Atlanta Hawks, along with Philips Arena and the Atlanta Thrashers, partner with TEAM GA (Techniques for Effective Alcohol Management) to educate patrons about personal responsibility, the danger of impaired driving and seeks to ensure safe travel of those attending Hawks games. Individuals who sign up receive a non-alcoholic drink coupon and names are entered for a prize drawing. The Designated Driver Booth is located adjacent to Portal 11 on the main concourse and is in operation for all sporting events and concerts.

THE HISTORY OF THE HAWKS

From Milwaukee, to St. Louis, to Atlanta.

It was a setting made for Mark Twain. A banjo box gymnasium called Wharton Field House seating 6,000 on hardwood benches in a city, or should we say three cities, straddling the Mississippi River is where the Atlanta Hawks have their roots.

They were known as the Tri-City Blackhawks, one of the original members of the National Basketball Association after a mid-summer merger in 1949 of the 12-year-old National Basketball League and the four-year-old Basketball Association of America formed the new league.

The Illinois cities of Moline and Rock Island and Davenport, Iowa across the river formed the formal name of the neophyte Blackhawks, coached by Roger Potter.

In the opening game at Wharton Field House, the Blackhawks beat the old Denver Nuggets, 93-85. But after a string of six losses, Potter became the first former coach of the franchise, as he was replaced by Red Auerbach.

The first edition of the Blackhawks made the playoffs, despite being six games under .500, but dropped out in the first round to the Anderson Duffey Packers. Then the coach, better known as Red Auerbach, left for Boston and many green-and-white World Championship banners.

After two years and a grammatical change to Tri-Cities, the Blackhawks packed their bags and moved to Milwaukee. They shortened the nickname to the Hawks and struggled for four years, never winning more than 27 games and finishing last each season. But it was in Milwaukee where the Hawks made a draft choice that would solidify the franchise for years to come.

His name was Bob Pettit. A first-round draft choice from Louisiana State in 1954, Pettit played his entire 11-year career with the Hawks, moving with the club to St. Louis in 1955. He wrote nearly every record in the Hawks' record book and was a four-time MVP of the annual NBA All-Star game, more times than any other player in history.

From 1957 through 1961, the Hawks won five consecutive Western Conference titles. Pettit was the star of the show and had an excellent supporting cast with Cliff Hagan, Slater Martin, Charley Share and Ed Macauley.

In 1958, the Hawks captured their lone World Championship by defeating Boston, four games to two. On three other occasions during the five-year stretch, the Hawks advanced to the finals only to lose to the Celtics each time.

For no apparent reason, the Hawks turned sour during the 1961-62 season and had it not been for the expansion of the Chicago Packers, the club would have gone from first to last in just one year. It was the only spring the Hawks failed to qualify for the playoffs in the 13 seasons they spent in St. Louis.

Fortunately for the franchise, Harry Gallatin, the former All-Pro with the New York Knickerbockers, took over the reins the following season and guided the Hawks to a second-place finish and back into the playoffs. For his efforts, Gallatin became the first recipient of the NBA's Coach of the Year award.

But Gallatin couldn't put the Hawks back on top and was replaced in the middle of the 1964-65 season by Richie Guerin, another Knick standout. The club again made the playoffs but was upset in the opening round by the Baltimore Bullets, a team which finished under .500 and eight games behind the Hawks during the regular season.

After the playoff loss, Pettit took off his uniform for the last time. He wound up his career with a 26.4 scoring average topped by a 31.1 mark during the disappointing '61-'62 campaign. His rebounding standards were even more incredible, a career average of 16.2, and a single-season high of 20.3 set during the 1960-61 season. He was named first-team All-Pro in his first ten seasons in the league, and second-team in his 11th and final season. In 1970, Pettit was enshrined in the Basketball Hall of Fame, and his uniform #9 has been retired.

The Hawks were becoming a young team as was characterized by the early Pettit-led teams. A year later, Hagan was gone, representing the last remaining link to the '58 Championship team.

In their places were Lou Hudson, the number one pick in 1966, Zelmo Beaty, Joe Caldwell, Lenny Wilkens and Bill Bridges. By 1968, the Hawks added another Western Conference title with a record of 56-26 — at that time the best in the team's history — and Guerin became the Hawks' second Coach of the Year.

Then came the shocker.

During the broadcast of an Atlanta Braves baseball game, announcer Milo Hamilton told Atlanta fans the city was going to have a professional basketball team. It was, of course, the Hawks, a perennial NBA powerhouse, moving from St. Louis to Atlanta.

Bringing the team to the South were two of Atlanta's and Georgia's most respected gentlemen, businessman Thomas G. Cousins and former governor Carl E. Sanders. They acquired the club from Ben Kerner.

Skeptics viewed the move as one of disaster since Atlanta had no facility for professional basketball and noted that the area was a hotbed for football, and there was not room for both sports.

It goes without saying that they were wrong on both counts.

The Hawks received permission to play their games in Alexander Memorial Coliseum on the Georgia Tech campus until a new arena could be constructed. Five years later that realization came true when The Omni was completed.

Under Guerin, the Hawks were sensational the first two years in Atlanta. They won the Western Conference title again in 1970 and advanced to the conference finals both seasons before losing to the star-studded Los Angeles Lakers.

With the emergence of the American Basketball Association came the fall of the Hawks. The new league raided the NBA teams, offering big money to the NBA stars in order to build credibility. Beaty was the first to jump in 1969, and Caldwell followed a year later.

Though the Hawks drafted Pete Maravich, the college scoring champion from Louisiana State, in 1970, the team struggled into the playoffs the next two seasons. The club finished 10 games under .500 each year and couldn't get past the first round of the playoffs.

For the 1972-73 season, the Hawks moved into The Omni, then a 16,500-seat structure, with a new coach, Cotton Fitzsimmons. Behind the 27.1 scoring average of Hudson, the Hawks responded to the new surroundings by reversing the record of the previous year.

The next year, however, the Hawks failed to make a playoff appearance for the first time in 12 seasons, and second in 19. Only another expansion team, this time the New Orleans Jazz, kept the club from plummeting into last place. The first move to rectify the situation was to trade Maravich to New Orleans for a slew of draft choices.

Owning the first and third selections in the 1975 NBA College Draft, the Hawks chose David Thompson from North Carolina State and Marvin Webster from Morgan State. The NBA-ABA bidding war was at its peak and both players opted for the Denver Nuggets of the rival league.

Disaster soon followed.

The team lost 51 games, the most in thirteen years, and tumbled into last place for the first time since the team left Milwaukee. Fitzsimmons lost his job eight games from the end (1975-76).

The bright spot on the club was the emergence of John Drew, a second-round pick in 1974, as one of the premier offensive players in the league. Drew, who was Basketball Weekly's Rookie of the Year for 1974-75 while leading the league in offensive rebounds, averaged 21.4 points per game in his second season.

Rumors abound that a move was imminent, and that a new owner was soon to purchase the team; but Hubie Brown, who coached the Kentucky Colonels to the 1975 NBA Championship, took over the team and promptly began to change the team's image. Midway through the 1976-77 season (January '77), half of the rumor became reality as R.E. "Ted" Turner, owner of the Braves and WTCC-TV, bought the club but stated the team would remain in Atlanta.

Hudson, an 11-year veteran of 179 NBA games, all in a Hawks uniform, was traded to Los Angeles (Lakers) as a youth movement was instituted. The #23 worn by Hudson was retired on the Lakers' first visit to the Omni, marking the second Hawks number to be retired. The two men so honored to that point, Pettit and Hudson, shared the Atlanta record for the most points scored in one game: 57.

Brown's first team suffered through a difficult initial year ('76-'77) by finishing in sixth place in their division with a 31-51 record. The team made a dramatic turnaround just one year later (1977-78), becoming the Cinderella team of the NBA, by advancing to the playoffs for the first time in five years. Brown was named NBA Coach of the Year as the fans became "Hubie's Sixth Man." In addition to Brown's coaching, Atlanta's move forward was sparked by two rookies who would have an impact in the team's history for years to come.

Seven-foot-two center Wayne "Tree" Rollins was selected by the Hawks in the first round of the NBA draft to secure the middle for the team. The Hawks' other impact pick was 6-2 guard Eddie Johnson. These two additions, along with a proven veteran like Drew, would comprise the nucleus of the team.

The Hawks were again playoff participants in 1978-79, but it was just a building block for the following season. Atlanta added forward Dan Roundfield that season and his play, along with the other players, brought the Central Division title to Atlanta in 1979-80. The squad finished with a 50-32 mark, and a first-place finish for the first time in nine years, and three players, Drew, Johnson and Roundfield, participated in the 1980 NBA All-Star game.

After just one season at the top, the Hawks fell 20 games under the .500 mark (1980-81), finishing 31-51 and out of the playoffs for the first time in four years.

Atlanta replaced Brown as coach with former New York/New Jersey Nets coach Kevin Loughery, and he led the Hawks back to the playoffs during both of his seasons in Atlanta (1981-82 and 1982-83) before leaving the team following his final year for another coaching position.

The Hawks' biggest move during Loughery's tenure was made off the court on September 3, 1982. The team traded players John Drew and Freeman Williams plus cash to the Utah Jazz in exchange for Dominique Wilkins, who they had selected that year in the NBA draft. Wilkins, a former All-American player at the University of Georgia, was a unanimous choice to the NBA All-Rookie first team in his rookie season, which was a preview of coming attractions.

Former Hawks assistant Michael Fratello was named to succeed Loughery as the Atlanta franchise's fifth head coach, and he promptly led the Hawks to their third consecutive playoff appearance in 1983-84.

Seeking to change their fortunes and join the NBA elite teams, Atlanta implemented their second youth movement. The Hawks introduced a three-year rebuilding plan in 1984-85 that would hopefully bring the team closer to a championship.

The movement started with the Hawks dealing Roundfield to the Detroit Pistons for forwards Cliff Livingston and Antoine Carr and two future draft picks. Roundfield concluded his six-year career with three All-Star seasons and a 17.6 points-per-game average. In addition to acquiring the youthful forwards, Atlanta drafted another big man in 7-0 center Kevin Willis of Michigan State. Willis' size and speed for an inside player would give the Hawks added depth in the frontcourt. The task of rebuilding was a long and difficult process for Fratello and the Hawks that season as the club finished 34-48 and out of the playoffs for only the second time in eight years.

As a result of missing the playoffs, there was some consolation as the team prepared for the '85-'86 season. The Hawks were allowed to participate in the NBA's first draft lottery (where the seven teams not making the playoffs were allowed to draw for the top seven picks in the 1985 draft), and with the fifth selection, Atlanta grabbed another seven-footer, SMU's Jon Koncak.

One of Atlanta's interesting free agent signings that season was 5-7 guard Anthony "Spud" Webb from N.C. State. A diminutive athlete who defied the odds of making an NBA roster, Webb electrified fans throughout the league with his speed and incredible jumping ability (42 inches). That talent was showcased at the 1986 NBA All-Star Weekend, as Webb defeated his teammate and defending champion Wilkins in the '86 Slam Dunk contest.

Despite the loss of his "crown," Wilkins became the first Atlanta player to lead the NBA in scoring after averaging 30.3 points in '85-'86. He was also honored with his first appearance in the NBA All-Star game, and he was also named to the first-team All-NBA squad.

As a team, the Hawks tied franchise marks for most wins in a season (50) and best home record (34-7), and their 50-32 record, which was second in the Central Division, was the league's biggest turnaround (+16 games) from the previous campaign. For his efforts, Fratello was named Haggard/NBA Coach of the Year.

With the high expectations of the 1986-87 season awaiting them, the Hawks provided another year of outstanding play. A franchise record 57 wins capped an extraordinary season that saw Atlanta win the Central Division title. With the third-best record in the NBA, the Hawks established themselves among the league's elite teams, and with the combination of talent and athletic ability, they became one of the NBA's most popular teams. Wilkins finished second among the league's leaders in scoring with a 29.0 average, and was voted an All-Star starter for the first time in his career (his second appearance overall).

Several individual records were also established as Glenn "Doc" Rivers broke Atlanta's single-season assist record with 823, which also ranked him fourth in the NBA (10.0 average). Rollins moved into second place on the NBA's all-time blocked shots list, and Mike McGee set an all-time team mark for three-point goals (86) and attempts (229). The team made the playoffs for the second straight season and defeated Indiana in the first round, but faltered in the second round and lost to the Detroit Pistons.

The following season ('87-'88), the Hawks were replaced as division champs by Detroit, as Atlanta concluded the season four games out of first place with a 50-32 record. Highlighting the year's achievements was the first appearance by a Hawks coach in the annual NBA All-Star game, as Mike Fratello earned the spot after Atlanta placed the best record in the Eastern Conference over the first half of the season. Joining Fratello on the victorious East squad were Wilkins and Rivers, who scored 29 and nine points respectively.

An exciting seven-game second-round playoff series against Boston ended the Hawks' quest for a possible championship series berth, but Atlanta followers, who during the season set new attendance records in The Omni, anxiously awaited the start of the 1988-89 year as the Hawks made two off-season acquisitions to challenge for the NBA championship.

With the addition of Moses Malone and Reggie Theus, many prognosticators around the country believed the Hawks would pose a serious threat for the club's second NBA title, but that was prior to the monumental loss of Willis, who would miss all 82 games with a fracture in his left foot. Despite the absence of the seven-foot forward, Atlanta ended the season with its fourth straight 50-win campaign (which at that time was the longest current streak in the Eastern Conference).

But what most will remember about the Hawks' '88-'89 season is the disappointing end to their title dreams, as the Milwaukee Bucks, who were beaten in all six regular season meetings with Atlanta, upset the Hawks in the first round of the NBA playoffs, three games to two.

The Hawks continued to struggle in 1989-90 as injuries plagued the team over much of the season, forcing them to miss the playoffs for the first time in five years. With a 41-41 record, Atlanta dropped to sixth place in the Central Division.

and was replaced on May 22 by former NBA player and San Antonio Head Coach Bob Weiss.

On the strength of a 22-game home winning streak, Atlanta returned to the playoffs and pushed the two-time defending champion Detroit Pistons to five games before the curtains fell on the 1990-91 season.

Weiss' coaching approach wasn't lost on Hawks fans, as well as the rest of the league, and was certainly evident in December when he was named Digital/NBA Coach of the Month as Atlanta streaked to an 11-3 record.

The season also brought improved play from Wilkins, who soared to his sixth NBA All-Star Game appearance in addition to Player of the Week (in January) and Month (in February) honors. While leading the team in scoring for the eighth straight season, he led the team for the first time in rebounding, and finished third in assists.

Unfortunately for the Hawks, January 28, 1992 was the telling blow of the 1991-92 season. Prior to that evening's game against Philadelphia, Wilkins was selected as a reserve for the Eastern Conference All-Star Game and was looking forward to the opportunity to become the 17th player in league history to reach the 20,000-point level. In the second quarter (with 5:32 remaining), the 6-8 forward, whose 28.1 scoring average trailed only Chicago's Michael Jordan, suffered a ruptured right achilles tendon injury which forced him to miss the remainder of the season.

At the time, Atlanta's record was 22-20. Without their veteran, the Hawks finished 16-24 and surprisingly, only one game away from making the 1992 NBA Playoffs. It came down to the final regular season game of the season, and if not for a 112-108 loss at Cleveland, Weiss' squad would have capped off an injury-filled campaign by earning an opening round playoff berth against Chicago.

Not only were the Hawks without the services of Wilkins for the final 40 games, but the outside shooting of Travis Mays was absent for 80 games after he suffered tendon problems in his right ankle after the second game of the year.

While deserving of an All-Star position prior to replacing his fallen teammate, center Kevin Willis' production was worthy of praise. After years of unfulfilled expectations, he led Atlanta in scoring (18.3), rebounding (15.5) and minutes played (2,962). His work on the boards (which also placed him second in the NBA) enabled him to become Atlanta's all-time season rebounding leader (1,258), and his 33 rebounds against Washington was an Atlanta game record.

The 1992-93 season saw the previous season's goal attained: the Hawks finished 43-39 and met the Chicago Bulls in the first round of the playoffs. An appearance in the playoffs had alternately seemed likely and impossible throughout this tumultuous season. To begin the season, Wilkins returned to the court after his career-threatening achilles injury to score his 20,000th point and become only the 17th NBA player to do so. Atlanta gained a true point guard from the New Jersey Nets as Rumeal Robinson was traded away for Nets guard Mookie Blaylock. Blaylock provided the leadership and ball distribution that the Hawks so desperately needed, and the season showed potential.

Although the first half of the season was spent in the depths of mediocrity, there were some bright spots. On February 2, Wilkins scored 31 points against Seattle to become the franchise's all-time leading scorer by breaking Bob Pettit's long-standing record of 20,880.

Slated to face the Bulls in the first round of the NBA Playoffs, the games went quickly, with Chicago sweeping the Hawks in three enroute to their third straight NBA title.

Immediately after the season, the Hawks announced that Weiss would not have his contract extended. The search for a new coach began in April and ended on June 1, when former Cavaliers Head Coach Lenny Wilkens rejoined the franchise. Wilkens, who spent eight years with the Hawks in St. Louis and entered the 1993-94 season 69 victories behind Arnold "Red" Auerbach's league-record total of 938 career coaching wins, brought long-time assistant coaches Dick Helm and Brian Winters with him in the move to Atlanta and began to look at the talent he was handed. With the draft at hand and a #15 first-round pick, the Hawks took Doug Edwards, a 6-7 forward known for his defense and passing, a perfect complement to the Hawks' squad.

While it was believed Wilkens and his staff would improve the Hawks fortunes, no one imagined the results would be so immediate. The 1993-94 season brought the franchise's third Central Division championship, a 57-25 record (the best in the Eastern Conference), and the first IBM/NBA Coach of the Year award for Wilkens, who also earned his fourth All-Star coaching assignment by leading the Eastern Conference All-Stars during the 1994 Game in Minneapolis.

Blaylock's season was also highlighted by his first appearance in the NBA All-Star Game, joining fellow teammate Wilkins and the Hawks coaching staff on the Eastern Conference squad.

For Wilkins however, his All-Star showing would be his last in an Atlanta uniform, when on February 24, the Hawks traded their future Hall-of-Famer and a number one draft pick to the Clippers for Danny Manning, ending a 12-year career in Hot-lanta. Wilkins, who began the 1994-95 season in Boston, concluded his days in Atlanta as the franchise leader in numerous categories including games played (882), minutes played (32,542), steals (1,245), points scored (23,292) and scoring average (26.4).

The 1994-95 season began with a bang, as two games into the season the Hawks traded Kevin Willis, who ranked among Hawks all-time leaders in every rebounding category. In exchange for Willis and a future first-round pick, Atlanta received Steve Smith and Grant Long from the Heat, who helped form the cornerstone for the future of the franchise.

Adjusting to the change in team chemistry didn't come easily. The Hawks came out of the gates slowly for the second consecutive year, before eventually recovering to the .500 mark (30-30) on March 10.

The highlight of the season was Lenny Wilkens' pursuit of Red Auerbach's all-time NBA wins mark of 939.

After trying unsuccessfully three times to deliver the record breaking win, the stage was set for a home game against Washington on January 6. Behind 23 points from Ken Norman, Atlanta pulled away early, eventually winning 112-90.

Going into the playoffs, Atlanta was playing their best ball of the season, getting solid contributions all around.

Unfortunately for the Hawks, their first round opponent was the Central Division champion (and Atlanta arch-rival) Indiana Pacers, a tough, veteran club as well. The Pacers were on top of their game and swept the Hawks, 3-0.

Going into the 1995-96 season, the Hawks hoped to return to the upper echelon of the Eastern Conference as their nucleus continued to grow stronger with experience. Atlanta felt they had the right mix to contend again immediately.

The season turned for the better on the night of January 7, as the team was stranded in New Jersey, due to the Blizzard of '96. After having a contest with the Nets postponed, the Hawks came home and reeled off 10 consecutive wins.

As the Hawks rolled toward the playoffs, the team hit a couple of bumps, losing three straight home games at one point in the final month of the season. But a win at Miami on the last day of the season sealed the sixth playoff spot for the Hawks, where they would face the Pacers for the third consecutive year.

When Reggie Miller's three-point attempt at the final buzzer rimmed out, the Hawks had prevailed in an exciting five-game series.

Although the Hawks fell to the Orlando Magic in the second round of the playoffs in five games (4-1), they didn't go down without a fight.

The acquisition of Dikembe Mutombo in 1996 gave Atlanta the big defensive presence in the middle they lacked since "Tree" Rollins. Mutombo's combination of shot blocking and rebounding ability is unparalleled in the NBA.

As the 1996-97 season began, the Hawks featured four All-Star caliber players and Dream Team III head coach Lenny Wilkens at the helm.

The addition of Mutombo, along with the movement of Laettner to his natural position, helped lead Atlanta to 56 wins (one off the franchise record), including a 20-game home winning streak and a franchise-tying 36 home wins.

Over the first two months of the season, the Hawks went 16-11, setting the stage for a record January. Atlanta went 14-2 that month, the most wins in a single month in franchise history. The Hawks reeled off 10 straight wins, equalling the fourth-best win streak in Atlanta history.

The Hawks pulled out a 3-2 win in the first round of the playoffs against the Pistons, setting the stage for a showdown with the Bulls.

After almost pulling out game one in Chicago, the Hawks did the unthinkable, winning at the United Center, and becoming the first team to win a road playoff game there since 1995. But the Bulls reeled off the next three games to win the series.

Mookie Blaylock turned in another solid season, leading the NBA in steals (2.7) for the first time, while Mutombo finished second in the league in blocked shots (3.3) and rebounding (11.6).

The Hawks pulled out a 3-2 win in the first round of the playoffs against the Pistons.

After almost pulling out game one of Round Two in Chicago, the Hawks did the unthinkable, winning at the United Center, and becoming the first team to win a road playoff game there since 1995. But the Bulls reeled off the next three games to win the series.

The Hawks success brought individual honors to a couple of players as Mutombo took home the NBA's Defensive Player of the Year Award and a first-team All-Defensive honor. Blaylock also received consideration for the All-Defensive team, garnering second team honors.

The start of the 1997-98 season brought an unparalleled level of excitement over the city. The Hawks began the season with a franchise record 11-game winning streak, tying the fifth-best start in NBA history.

The rest of the season didn't live up to the first month's promise, however, as Atlanta posted a 5-8 mark in December followed by a 9-8 January, which led to a 29-20 mark after the All-Star break.

After finishing fifth overall in the conference, the Hawks solidified a first-round playoff matchup with the Charlotte Hornets, a team Atlanta had swept, 4-0, during the regular season.

The playoffs didn't hold true to form, as the Hornets surprised the Hawks, winning the series, 3-1, and moving on to face eventual champion Chicago in the second round.

Alan Henderson was named as the league's Most Improved Player after posting career-highs in points (14.3), rebounds (6.4), assists (1.1), shooting percentage (.485) and free throw percentage (.652).

The 1998-99 season was memorable for many reasons. A season cut short by the NBA's first work stoppage (lockout), Atlanta put together a 31-19 mark, just two games off the best mark in the Eastern Conference.

The Hawks finished up 2-1 in May, and headed into the playoffs with the fourth seed.

The playoffs also proved to be a make-or-break proposition, as Atlanta took a 3-2 first round win over Detroit, but followed it with a difficult 4-0 second round loss to eventual Eastern Conference finalist New York.

The 1999 offseason was one of great transition, as the Hawks traded the longtime backcourt tandem of Mookie Blaylock and Steve Smith.

As the team moved into their new home, Philips Arena, the youthful and athletic direction of the team promised to be exciting.

The 1999-2000 saw the opening of the state-of-the-art Philips Arena, where the Hawks recorded a 21-20 mark on the campaign. Early on, after pulling even at a 9-9 mark, the Hawks went just 19-45 the remainder of the season.

Rookie Jason Terry brought hope for the future, as the 10th overall pick was named to the NBA's All-Rookie second team.

Dikembe Mutombo was once again named to the Eastern Conference All-Star team and won the NBA rebounding title for the first time in his career. He also finished second in blocked shots and field goal percentage.

Following the season, head coach Lenny Wilkens elected to resign his position, setting the stage for the Lon Kruger era. Kruger, who spent 18 years as a college coach at Pan American, Kansas State, Florida and Illinois looked to duplicate his success on the pro level.

While 2000-01 was not a successful season from a won-loss standpoint, a strong foundation was laid, and the subsequent offseason provided an excitement level unmatched in recent years.

Despite being on the losing end of the most contests in franchise history (57), Lon Kruger's group showed outstanding effort on a nightly basis and the team's attitude did not go unnoticed.

Jason Terry avoided the sophomore jinx in a big way leading the team with 19.7 ppg, the highest by a Hawk since Steve Smith's 20.1 output in 1997-98.

A mid-season trade changed the look of the team's future, as center Dikembe Mutombo was traded to the Philadelphia 76ers for three talents — Theo Ratliff, Toni Kukoc and Nazr Mohammed.

Ratliff was named the Eastern Conference's starting center in the 2001 NBA All-Star Game, but was unable to play due to a fractured wrist. That injury also pushed his Hawks debut back to the 2001-02 season.

Three-time NBA champ Kukoc and the unheralded Mohammed both made major contributions, with Mohammed playing so well he was re-signed in the offseason.

The draft day acquisition of the Grizzlies' Shareef-Abdur Rahim provided a tremendous amount of buzz around the league, as the experienced, yet young 2000 U.S. Olympian will now lead his hometown team.

Injuries became a major story of 2001-02, as the Hawks lost an NBA-high 319 games due to injury/illness.

While there were some terrific individual performances — Shareef Abdur Rahim's All-Star appearance, 50-point game and all-around consistent play — the loss of Theo Ratliff for 79 of the season's 82 games proved too much to overcome in a 33-49 campaign.

Jason Terry also shined, averaging 19.3 ppg (his second straight season over 19 ppg), while the exciting DerMarr Johnson showed significant development over his rookie season.

The Hawks delivered a solid performance over the second half of the season, going 17-16 following the All-Star break (after a 16-33 first half).

Ira Newble, signed in mid-January, brought a toughness and defensive presence to the club, starting 35 of 42 games in which he played.

The summer of 2002 saw another draft night trade, as the Hawks acquired Gonzaga point guard Dan Dickau from the Sacramento Kings in exchange for a future first round pick. In the second round, Atlanta selected Australian David Andersen (37th overall).

An early August trade added All-Star forward Glenn Robinson to the Hawks roster, bringing one of the league's best mid-range shooters and scorers to the Atlanta roster.

There were very high expectations entering the 2002-03 season.

After a 6-4 start through 10 games, the Hawks dropped 12 of 17, costing head coach Lon Kruger his job. Assistant coach Terry Stotts replaced Kruger and had a rough start as well, going 3-11.

But the Hawks showed signs of life in mid-January, and really began playing solidly following the All-Star break.

Speaking of All-Star, the 2003 classic, held at Philips Arena, was certainly a highlight for the franchise and the city, as the first-ever double overtime All-Star game ended with a 155-145 West win. Kevin Garnett (37 points) secured MVP honors in Michael Jordan's final All-Star appearance.

Atlanta produced a 16-17 mark following the break, and posted a 6-2 mark in April. Glenn Robinson, Shareef Abdur-Rahim and Jason Terry combined to average 57.9 ppg, becoming the highest-scoring trio in the league on the season. Additionally, center Theo Ratliff returned to

All-Star form in the season's second half.

After the first part of the 2003-04 season didn't go as planned, General Manager Billy Knight decided major changes had to be made for the franchise to move forward. His vision included adding young, versatile and athletic players, and taking no shortcuts to build a long-term winner.

Over a 10-day span in February, Knight pulled off three major trades, leaving the Hawks with massive salary cap room for the summer of 2004.

In another move that changed the shape of the franchise, the Hawks, along with the Atlanta Thrashers and the operating rights to Philips Arena, were sold to a nine-man ownership group called Atlanta Spirit LLC on March 31, 2004.

On the court, Stephen Jackson had a breakout season, while rookies Boris Diaw and Travis Hansen showed signs of things to come.

Leading into 2004-05, the Hawks made several roster moves, including the acquisitions of veterans Al Harrington, Antoine Walker, Tony Delk, Peja Stojakovic and Kenny Anderson, and the return of former Hawks Kevin Willis and Jon Barry.

Additionally, the team stocked up with four draft picks — Josh Childress (sixth overall), Josh Smith (17th), Donta Smith (34th) and Royal Ivey (37th).

By the time the smoke cleared, only two players remained on the roster (Chris Crawford and Boris Diaw) from the start of the previous season.

The season was a frustrating one in some ways (with a 13-69 finish), but also led to opportunities for the team's young nucleus to get significant playing time as the season went along.

Childress and Smith especially made progress, with both earning NBA second-team All-Rookie honors after solid rookie campaigns.

The high-flying Smith captured the imagination of the entire league on All-Star Weekend in Denver, single-handedly rejuvenating the Slam Dunk Contest in the process. The 19-year-old rookie put together four devastating dunks (three earned perfect 50's) en route to earning the title.

In the 2005-06 campaign, the young Hawks showed significant progress, both individually and team-wise. The addition of the multi-talented Joe Johnson was a huge step for the franchise, as was the drafting of Marvin Williams (2nd overall) and Salim Stoudamire (31st overall).

After a blockbuster trade to acquire him prior to the season, Johnson was everything the team expected and more, coming up with four 40+point games, the most since Dominique Wilkins' eight in 1992-93, leading the team in several offensive categories, breaking the franchise's single-season record for minutes played and earning a spot on the prestigious USA Senior National Team program.

Another offseason acquisition, restricted free agent signee Zaza Pachulia, proved to be a great find in the pivot. Second-year man Josh Smith came on especially strong after the All-Star break, and finished second in the NBA in total blocks. Williams and Stoudamire showed promise as well, the former improving his scoring and rebounding every month.

The club went 26-56, doubling the previous season's win total, improving more than all but two teams in the league. With the club believed to be the youngest in NBA history (avg. age — 23), the sky seems to be the limit.

In September of 2006, the franchise (and fans around the world) celebrated the induction of legend Dominique Wilkins into the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame, as he took his rightful place among the immortals of the sport.

The 2006-07 campaign saw continued growth of the team's exciting young core, despite a devastating rash of injuries. Four of the team's top seven players missed 20 or more games, and Atlanta only had six games with all top seven players healthy.

Joe Johnson stepped up as one of the elite players in the league, ranking ninth in the NBA in scoring (25.0), while earning the team's first All-Star berth since 2002. Johnson missed the first games of his six-year career due to injury (missing 25 total), yet recorded 19 30-point games, and set a franchise record by beginning the season with seven consecutive games scoring 25-or-more.

Josh Smith was outstanding as well, placing second in the league in blocks (207), in the process of becoming the youngest player in NBA history (21 years, 88 days) to reach the 500-block milestone. But his all-around game began to catch up as well, as he was one of just three men in the league to rank in the top 20 in blocks, steals and rebounds.

Still the youngest team in the NBA, Atlanta saw its win total improve for the third straight season (Hawks finished 30-52), as all five of the team's top players (Johnson, Smith, Josh Childress, Marvin Williams and Zaza Pachulia) finished with career-high scoring numbers.

The Hawks' patience over the last several years paid off in the 2007-08 season. After recording a 37-45 mark and reaching postseason play for the first time since 1999, Atlanta took the NBA's top regular season team and eventual champion (Boston) to seven games, before falling 4-3 in the thrilling first round series. The home contests (all Hawks wins) in particular generated tremendous support from the Philips Arena faithful, and raised eyebrows around the NBA.

Veteran point guard Mike Bibby was added to the roster at the trade deadline, and the Hawks' picked it up offensively in the second half of the season, playing their way into the playoff picture.

Several Hawks players pushed their games to the next level — Joe Johnson earned his second straight All-Star berth, Josh Smith again finished second in the league in blocks (and placed sixth in Defensive Player of the Year voting), Al Horford was the only unanimous selection to the NBA All-Rookie team (finishing as the runner-up for Rookie of the Year) and Josh Childress was sixth in voting for the NBA's Sixth Man Award.

The momentum generated in the 2007-08 playoffs certainly carried over into the 2008-09 regular season, as Atlanta recorded its best (and first .500 or better) campaign in 10 years.

Sporting one of the league's best home records (31-10), the Hawks improved their overall mark for the fourth straight year, going 47-35, finishing second in the Southeast Division and fourth in the Eastern Conference.

Joe Johnson made the All-Star game for the third straight season, and hit the 10,000 career point plateau on Jan. 31.

Atlanta reached the Eastern Conference semifinals (also for the first time since 1999), as they took out Miami, 4-3 in the first round, before falling, 4-0, to Cleveland.

The still-young team looked to continue that momentum in 2009-10.

The 2009-10 campaign was notable for many reasons, not the least of which was the Hawks recording 53 wins, a superlative 34 home victories and once again advancing to the second round of the playoffs for the second straight season.

While much of the '08-'09 team returned for '09-'10, a new face provided a major difference off the bench. Veteran Jamal Crawford, who was acquired in the summer of 2009, eagerly accepted and thrived in his substitute role, earning NBA Sixth Man of the Year honors.

Joe Johnson was named an All-Star for the fourth straight season, and took home his first berth on the All-NBA team (third team). Josh Smith was runner-up to childhood friend Dwight Howard for Defensive Player of the Year honors, and made the NBA All-Defensive second team.

Second-year big man Al Horford earned his first All-Star berth, giving Atlanta two players in the game for the first time in 12 years.

After beating Milwaukee in the first round, the Hawks ran into a hot Orlando Magic squad in round two, suffering a 4-0 sweep in the Conference Semifinals for the second consecutive year.

PLAYER PERSONNEL GUIDE

ROSTERS

Each team is required to carry 12 players on its active list and one player on its inactive list. Teams may have a maximum of three players on its inactive list. Players sent to the NBA Development League will continue to count on a team's inactive list.

TEN-DAY CONTRACT

Beginning on January 5, 2011, a team may sign a player to a 10-day contract. No player may be signed to more than two 10-day agreements.

TRADING DEADLINE

No trades are permitted after 3:00 p.m. Eastern Time on February 24, 2011. From that point to the end of the regular season, player additions must be made through the waiver procedure or by signing free agents.

WAIVERS

From August 15 to the end of the regular season, clubs may claim waived players within 48 business hours after notice. Players waived at any other time may be claimed within 10 days. If no team claims the waived player, he becomes a free agent.

GUARANTEED CONTRACT

On January 10, 2011, all player contracts become guaranteed for the remainder of the season.

PLAYOFF ROSTERS

Must be submitted by 3:00 p.m. Eastern time on the day following the last day of the regular season (regular season ends April 13, 2011).

RENUNCIATION OF AMATEUR ELIGIBILITY

A person who is at least 19 years of age and who is one year removed from high school shall become eligible for the college draft if he renounces his intercollegiate basketball eligibility by written notice to the NBA at least 60 days prior to the draft. Prior to the 60 days before the draft, teams may not make direct contact with players who have intercollegiate basketball eligibility left. Clubs may contact players without remaining eligibility but may not discuss compensation.

TRADING OF FIRST DRAFT CHOICES

No team may sell or trade its right to select a player in the first round of the college draft if the result of such an exchange would be to leave the club without first round picks in any two consecutive drafts.

PRE-DRAFT CAMPS

Prior to the college draft, teams are prohibited from conducting so-called "mini-camps" for prospective players eligible for the draft.

SALARY CAP

The 2010-11 salary cap is $58.044 million.

INSTANT REPLAY

Instant replay review will be triggered automatically — and not at the discretion of the officials or teams — in the following situations:

FIELD GOAL ATTEMPTS

A field goal that could affect the outcome of the game is made with no time remaining on the clock (0:00) at the end of the fourth quarter or any overtime period.

A field goal is made with no time remaining on the clock (0:00) at the end of the first, second and third quarters.

Once replay is triggered in either of these two situations, the officials will review instant replay to determine whether time on the game clock had expired before the ball left the shooter's hand. If the shot was timely, the officials may also review the tape to determine if the field goal was scored correctly as a two-point or three-point basket, whether the shooter committed a boundary line violation when he released the ball and whether a 24-second clock or 8-second backcourt violation occurred before the shot.

FOULS

A foul for which the resulting free throws could affect the outcome of the game is called with no time remaining on the clock (0:00) at the end of the fourth quarter or any overtime period.

A foul is called with no time remaining on the clock (0:00) at the end of the first, second and third quarters.

In these situations, officials will review instant replay to determine only whether the called foul occurred prior to the expiration of time on the game clock and not whether the call itself was correct.

MEDIA INFORMATION

Welcome to the 2010-11 edition of Atlanta Hawks and NBA basketball. As the Hawks enter their 43rd year in Atlanta, the organization appreciates your efforts and extends its cooperation to assist you in your duties. In an effort to continue a smooth and efficient operation this season, the following rules have been established.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Additional Hawks information and photographs are available by contacting the Media Relations Department at (404) 878-3800. To send a FAX to the Hawks Media Relations offices, you may dial (404) 878-3590.

INTERVIEW REQUESTS

PRACTICE INFORMATION

The majority of Hawks practices are closed to the media, except for the final 30 minutes per team policy. Additionally, the coaches office, the training room, the weight room and the locker room are off-limits to the media at all times, unless permission has been granted by a member of the media relations staff in advance (NO EXCEPTIONS). If you require a one-on-one interview expected to last longer than 15 minutes, we ask that you contact the Hawks Media Relations Department. Only accredited media will be allowed to attend Hawks practices, as all sessions are closed to the general public. Practices are held on the Philips Arena practice court (directions are listed below).

REPORTERS AND CAMERAPERSONS ARE ASKED TO MAINTAIN PROFESSIONALISM WHEN ATTENDING ALL PRACTICE SESSIONS.

PHOTOGRAPHERS & VIDEOGRAPHERS

The same policies in place for media members are the same for all photographers and videographers. The last 30 minutes are available for B-roll and still photographers, from the baseline area nearest the media room only.

PLEASE REMEMBER THAT PRACTICE TIMES ARE SUBJECT TO CHANGE.

SHOOTAROUNDS

When scheduled, the Hawks shootarounds will generally take place on the main floor of Philips Arena. All shootarounds are closed to the media, followed by a 15-minute interview session.

PLEASE REMEMBER THAT SHOOTAROUND TIMES ARE SUBJECT TO CHANGE.

PHILIPS ARENA DIRECTIONS / PARKING

SEASON MEDIA CREDENTIALS

The Hawks will provide full season credentials to those working media outlets that have covered and attended 75% or more of our home games in past years. For those media members who receive this pass, your photo will accompany it. Be advised that this pass is required at each game and must be displayed at all times.

SINGLE-GAME MEDIA CREDENTIALS

Single-game credentials (press and photo) must be requested on company letterhead to the Hawks Media Relations Department, no later than 12 noon the day before the game (Friday noon for weekend or Monday games). You may phone in your request by calling (404) 878-3800, and asking for anyone in the department, or you can fax your request to (404) 878-3590. Pre-arranged credentials may be picked up from the Media Entrance on the service level of Philips Arena off Park Avenue West. Those regularly assigned to the Hawks and the opposing teams will be seated at courtside, or in the press auxiliary areas. Those requesting single-game credentials will be seated on a first-come, first-served basis. GUESTS ARE NOT PERMITTED.

STILL PHOTOGRAPHERS & TV VIDEOGRAPHERS CREDENTIALS

Season credentials will be limited to those outlets that have covered and attended 75% or more of our home games in past years. For those media members who receive this pass, your photo will accompany it. Be advised that this pass is required at each game and must be displayed at all times. Credentialed photographers must sit in designated positions along the baseline. Photographers will not be allowed to sit on the sidelines at Philips Arena, unless there is prior approval from the Media Relations Department. No photography of any Hawks game shall be released to any individual other than the entity for whom the pass was issued and subject to the rules governing such use as described on the reverse side of the credential. Any variation to this policy will result in forfeiture of future credentials. Single-game photographer and videographer credentials will be issued on a space available basis. Freelance photographers wishing credentials must submit a letter citing a specific assignment from a publication to obtain working passes. NO STILL PHOTOGRAPHER OR TV VIDEOGRAPHER IS ALLOWED TO SIT IN THE THREE-FOOT ESCAPE LANES, LOCATED ON BOTH SIDES OF BOTH BASKET STANCHIONS. IN ADDITION, ALL WORKING CAMERAS MUST HAVE A RUBBER LENS SHADE PER NBA POLICY. All single-game still photographer and videographer credential requests must be received at least 24 hours prior to the game they wish to cover. STILL PHOTOGRAPHERS ARE NOT ALLOWED IN THE HAWKS OR VISITING TEAM LOCKER ROOMS AT ANY TIME. CAMERA PHONES ARE NOT ALLOWED IN THE HAWKS OR VISITING TEAM LOCKER ROOM AT ANY TIME.

LOCKER ROOM ACCESS

The team locker rooms are located on the service level of Philips Arena, in the hallways behind the team bench areas. NBA media regulations govern the accessibility to the locker rooms prior to games. In accordance with NBA policy, both the Hawks and visiting team locker rooms will be opened 90 minutes prior to game time, closed 45 minutes prior to game time and will re-open 10 minutes after the game. NO AUTOGRAPHS ARE ALLOWED DURING MEDIA ACCESS PERIODS. Still photographers will not be permitted in either team locker room.

PHILIPS ARENA MEDIA WORKROOM

The Hawks Media Workroom is located to the right of the Media Entrance off Park Avenue West at Philips Arena. The Media Workroom will be open 2:30 prior to game time, at halftime and following the game. Press room usage is only available to those with a valid Hawks media credential, and telephones are available for filing purposes after the contest. We ask that professional and courteous consideration be given to the media who are working each game in the work areas. Phone lines and fax service are available for working media. Wireless service is provided free of charge.

PRESS WILL CALL ENTRANCE

Follow the same directions to Philips Arena, and the entrance is on Park Avenue West (located on the right) before you get to Media Parking Lot A. The press room is located directly on the right as you enter the will call entrance area. For a map of that location, check page 274.

PRESS SERVICES

Game notes will be available in the press room two hours prior to game time. Game statistics (play-by-play, quarter stats and halftime box scores) will be delivered to the press table, while final boxes and fourth quarter play-by-plays will be available in the Media Workroom after the game.

PRE-GAME/POST-GAME COACHES INTERVIEW ROOM

Coach Drew will be available to media inside of his office area approximately 1:30 prior to the scheduled tip-off in the Hawks locker room. Approximately 10 minutes after each game, Coach Drew will conduct his post-game press conference on the Hawks practice court. Media members are asked to enter that area by way of the media workroom. Generally, the visiting head coach will conduct his postgame interview outside of the visiting team locker room.

AUTOGRAPHS

Media members are not allowed to ask for players' or coaches' autographs during media access periods.

PLAYER WARMUPS

The playing floor is off-limits to media personnel during pre-game warm-ups. Players are available for interviews in the locker rooms during the access period. Pre-game media interview requests made well in advance are strongly recommended.

TICKET REQUESTS

Media members wishing to purchase tickets to any Hawks home or road game are asked to request these tickets through the Media Relations Department or the Ticket Office. While there is no guarantee that each request will be fulfilled, we ask that all requests are made in advance.

STATISTICAL AND PRESS RELEASE INFORMATION

Statistics, team and player information can always be found on the Hawks web site at www.hawks.com. In addition, the NBA has a 24-hour audio hotline throughout the season for media members only. Telephone number and access guidelines are available through the Hawks Media Relations Department. The Hawks also disseminate information to accredited members of the media through e-mail. Should you desire to receive press releases and other information via e-mail, please contact the Hawks Media Relations Department.

STEVE HOLMAN

Voice of the Hawks

Broadcasting ironman Steve Holman begins his 26th season behind the mic on the Atlanta Hawks Radio Network. The "Voice of the Hawks" has broadcast 1,796 consecutive Hawks games on radio, including playoffs, dating back to March of 1989. The streak is among the longest for radio-only play-by-play announcers in the NBA. He has been broadcasting games for half of the team's 42 years in Atlanta, and has done well over 2,000 Hawks contests overall.

His most recent milestone, consecutive game no. 1,500, came on his 53rd birthday on March 5, 2007 in Miami. Holman worked his 1,000th consecutive Hawks radio broadcast on February 18, 2001 when Atlanta visited Golden State.

Holman has announced Hawks games around the globe, including contests from Russia, England, Puerto Rico and Canada, and has been a part of several notable historical calls, including the night Dominique Wilkins became the team's all-time scoring leader, as well as Lenny Wilkens' record-breaking 939th career win.

The 56-year-old Holman had done play-by-play and color commentary on Hawks broadcasts for 3 1/2 years before taking over the full time play-by-play duties in 1989.

During the 1996 Centennial Olympic Games, Holman was part of Westwood One's/NBC National Radio coverage, calling play-by-play action for both the United States men's and women's gold medal basketball teams in addition to boxing.

Holman's first radio job was as a 17-year-old high school senior at WCCM, where he got to work under sportscasting icon Curt Gowdy, who owned the station. Holman has been involved in the NBA since the early 1970s when he was broadcast assistant to the Boston Celtics' late play-by-play legend Johnny Most. Holman's first experience calling NBA action came in 1975 when Most lost his voice mid-game.

He has been a fixture on Atlanta radio since 1980 when he arrived to work on Falcons football and Atlanta Chiefs soccer. Along with his numerous awards for sports reporting, Holman has also won the Georgia Associated Press Award for his Hawks broadcast coverage. Holman and his wife Mary Jane reside in Newnan and are the parents of two grown sons, Steve Jr., and Scott, and welcomed daughter-in-law Amy into the family after she and Scott married last summer. He was born March 5, 1954 in Lawrence, Massachusetts.

BOB RATHBUN

TV Play-by-Play

One of the NBA's most recognizable and decorated play-by-play announcers, Bob Rathbun enters his 15th season as the television play-by-play voice for the Hawks. Rathbun will call all of the games on the Hawks' FSN South/SportSouth package.

He has added some significant broadcasting awards over the last few years. In April 2008, Rathbun was inducted into the media wing of the Virginia Sports Hall of Fame. In 2008 and 2009, FSN South walked away with an Emmy for Outstanding Achievement, Sporting Event/Game (Live Unedited), including one in 2009 for its broadcast of the Hawks-Celtics Game Six playoff contest from 2008.

In 2007, Rathbun won the same Emmy for his work on FSN's winning entry while broadcasting play-by-play for the Atlanta Braves.

His basketball work has touched nearly all of the major broadcast outlets. His NBA work has earned him opportunities to call games for TNT and NBA-TV, after a collegiate resume that includes stints with CBS (NCAA basketball tournament), ABC, and ESPN (College basketball plus college football and the College World Series).

Rathbun has served as the college basketball play-by-play announcer for the ACC Television Network through Raycom Sports since 1988, and he has called games for both the ACC and the SEC on FSN South since he arrived in Atlanta in 1996. He currently calls games on FSN South's coverage of SEC football, as well as the network's WNBA Atlanta Dream action.

With an extensive sports background, Rathbun's broadcasting career has earned him seven Sportscaster of the Year honors (Virginia: 1980-82, 1985, 1988-89; Georgia 1998), a Distinguished Service Award from the ACC (1994), and a Distinguished Alumni Award from Catawba College (1988). He was inducted into his alma mater's Sports Hall of Fame in 2006.

His baseball resume includes 10 years as FSN South's voice of the Atlanta Braves, three seasons on radio in Detroit with the Tigers, and part time work on Baltimore Orioles' TV broadcasts.

Since 2004, Rathbun has spearheaded the organization's Speaker's Bureau, where he works on increasing the profile of the Hawks, Thrashers and Philips Arena — through speaking engagements with civic, community, religious and other local groups.

Rathbun, who graduated with a Bachelor of Arts degree in speech from Catawba College (1976), and his wife Marybeth have two children, Court and Grace.

JEROME JURENOVICH

TV Sideline Reporter

Hawks television sideline reporter Jerome Jurenovich begins his first season in that role, after previously serving as the host of the "Hawks LIVE" postgame show.

Jurenovich began his career as a weekend sports anchor/reporter for WSEE-TV in Erie, Pennsylvania. Two years later, he moved to CNN Headline Sports, and then to Fox Sports Radio in Los Angeles, where he co-hosted NFL Sunday.

After helping to launch Altitude Sports in Denver, where he worked as the primary host for Denver Nuggets and Colorado Avalanche broadcasts, the veteran sports broadcaster returned to Atlanta in 2008. Since his return, he has hosted the "Hawks LIVE" and "Braves LIVE" programs, and has won an Emmy each of the last three years for Outstanding Achievement, On Camera Talent-Sports Anchor.

PHILIPS ARENA

CAPACITY: Basketball 18,729 | Hockey 18,545 | Concerts 21,000

Considered one of the best dual-sport, multi-purpose facilities in the world, Philips Arena offers a guest experience unmatched in the industry. Home of the NBA's Atlanta Hawks, NHL's Atlanta Thrashers and the WNBA's Atlanta Dream, Philips Arena hosts close to 2 million fans and 200 events annually.

Ranked consistently among North America's Top-10 arenas based on attendance by Billboard and Pollstar, the arena was named as the No. 8 concert venue in the United States (No. 10 in North America) in Billboard's Decade-End Top 10. Pollstar ranked the arena as the No. 1 concert and events venue in the U.S. for the first half of 2009. In addition, Philips Arena ranked No. 3 in the United States and No. 8 in the world in Pollstar's end-of-year rankings for 2007 and 2008, and was one of six venues in the U.S. nominated for "Venue of the Year" by the magazine in 2007. In October 2007, Philips Arena received the Ticketmaster Platinum Ticket Award for exceeding more than 535,000 tickets through Ticketmaster channels for 2006.

The venue completed its 11th season with several world-class events under its belt, including the 2008 NHL All-Star Game, 2004 U.S. Figure Skating Championships, and the 2003 NBA All-Star events. Philips Arena delivers top-ranked concert tours, professional and collegiate sports, family shows and conferences in a world-class setting with unparalleled customer service. In April 2005, USA Today ranked Philips Arena the No. 7 fan-friendliest NBA venue out of 29 arenas and No. 4 in the Eastern Conference. In this survey of the fan experience, Philips Arena finished No. 1 in the concessions category and its main concourse ranked second in atmosphere.

The 20,000-seat sports and entertainment venue has hosted more than 16 million patrons since opening in September 1999. The venue adjoins world news hub CNN Center and sits within yards of the Georgia World Congress Center, the Georgia Dome, and Centennial Olympic Park. The building is an official stop on the MARTA rail system, and its grand entrance celebrates the city, literally spelling "ATLANTA" in 65-foot high letters illuminated with fiber-optic lighting.

VENUE SCORES WITH CRITICS, PERFORMERS AND FANS

In the venue's first ten seasons, Philips Arena, named for sponsor Philips, earned numerous industry, media and public accolades for its design, acoustics, amenities and spectrum of events.

In April, 2009, Philips Arena achieved LEED for Existing Building: Operations and Maintenance (LEED-EB: O&M) certification as specified by the United States Green Building Council (USGBC). LEED stands for "Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design," and represents independent, third-party verification that Philips Arena has met green building operating standards and performance measures. Philips Arena was the first NBA or NHL arena in the world to achieve this certification for an existing facility.

In 2002, Philips Arena was one of only four U.S. arenas to earn an "A" grade among venue naming rights deals ranked by Advertising Age magazine. Philips Arena captured Tour Guide Magazine's Top Dog Award as selected by tour industry professionals in 2006 for Best Large Venue, and also earned Facilities and Event Management Prime Site Award in 2001 and 2002 through votes cast by promoters and arena peers.

Philips Arena's video production team and the Hawks and Thrashers have been recognized for excellence with multiple Golden Matrix Awards for video production at the annual IDEA Conferences, including awards in 2002 and 2005 for best overall video display for basketball and in 2004 for best overall video display for hockey.

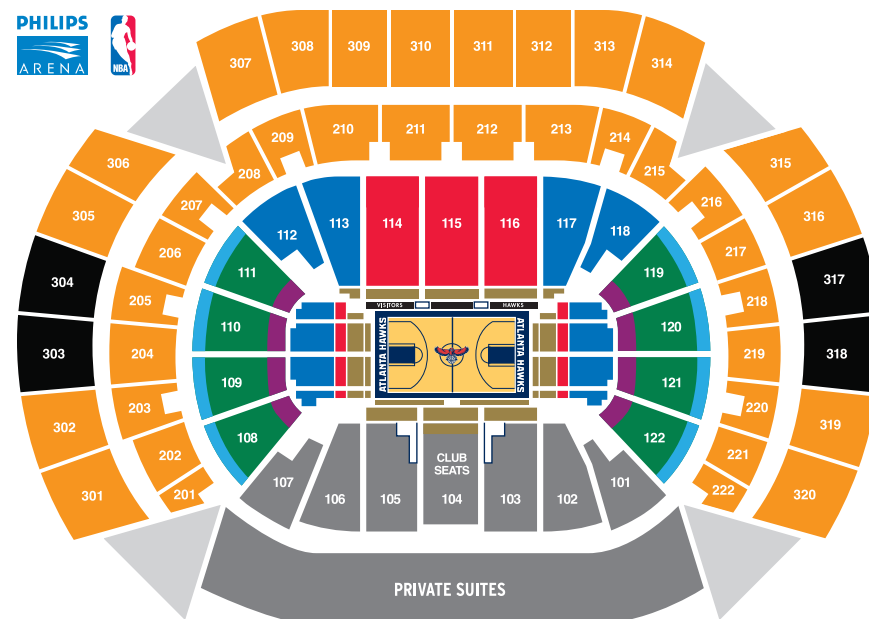

ATLANTA'S SPORTS AND ENTERTAINMENT CENTER

Philips Arena's sports attendance record of 20,425 was set on May 2, 2008 during the Hawks' thrilling NBA Playoffs win over the Boston Celtics, in game six of their first round series. The venue hosts a variety of other sports/entertainment events annually including Harlem Globetrotters, Disney On Ice, Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus and Sesame Street Live.

Philips Arena replaced the Omni Coliseum when it was imploded in 1997. The Omni was home to the NBA Atlanta Hawks beginning with the 1968-69 season when they moved from St. Louis, and from 1972-1980, was home to the NHL Atlanta Flames.

PHILIPS ARENA SEATING CHART

2010-11 FULL SEASON PRICING

MUSIC AND CONCERTS

Philips Arena's vertical suite design featuring all 92 luxury suites "stacked" in opera house style brought the upper rows of seats closer to the floor than any venue built in decades. This design – with input from R.E.M.'s Michael Mills – has proven to be a hit both with concert performers and their audiences.

CAPACITY AND ACCESSIBILITY

Maximum seating capacity of Philips Arena (approximate):

18,545 seats for Hockey
18,729 seats for Basketball
21,000 for Concerts

Philips Arena meets all standards for accessibility by persons with disabilities. Disabled seating areas are accessible by wheelchairs and provide views of the arena floor equal to the sightlines for standing spectators. Visit www.PhilipsArena.com for an up-to-date schedule of events at Philips Arena, which is operated by Atlanta Spirit LLC.
